Cityscape Detroit is a non-profit group that advocates for good urban planning, good urban design, investment, adaptive reuse of old buildings, green spaces, pedestrian friendliness, etc. in Detroit. The officers and members of Cityscape volunteer tirelessly to improve Detroit's "built environment."

Please look at our Web site, www.cityscapedetroit.org, to see our mission, history, principles and the educational resources we have put online. The group has been taking public positions on urban planning and development issues; organizing educational membership lectures and tours; and making Detroit a better place to live for more than 20 years.

We were interested to read that you became head of Olympia Development. Your family own a number of properties in downtown Detroit. We read about your recent press conference (and knew some people who attended), and are excited about what you've just done downtown and may do.

We would be interested in meeting with you to hear about your plans for Detroit, explain what we think is interesting and important, and find common ground for the betterment of the city.

What date and time for a meeting works good for you?

On behalf of the officers and members of Cityscape Detroit,

Andrew Koper
